

Silly Story Scenes

(inspired by MadLibs)

How to Play:

1. Without reading the scene, think of words to fit each category in the word list for each scene. For example, "plural noun" might be "cars" and "past tense verb" might be "ran."
2. Fill in the corresponding spaces with the words you have listed.
3. Read the new scene aloud for everyone to enjoy.
4. You may choose to read the original scene, if you'd like, to see how far your new scene is from the one in the book.
5. Repeat with a new set of words for that scene, or with one of the other Silly Story Scenes provided.
6. If desired, choose another scene from your favorite Read Local Challenge book, and create your own Silly Story Scene by replacing key words with nouns, verbs, or adjectives, etc.

ORIGINAL SCENE:

Princess Cassandra should have been the happiest princess in the world. She had hundreds of dresses, thousands of books, and servants to bring her anything she wanted. There was only one thing she didn't have. A best friend. "I want a pet that matches my favorite green dress," she said. "We'll swim and jump and play all day. And at night, he will sit on my pillow and sing to me." The Royal Pet Handler searched for the perfect pet. But it wasn't easy. The mouse was too squeaky. The kitten refused to swim. The hippo wouldn't jump. And none of the animals were green.
